PAW VISION

The vision of the Planning Association of Washington (PAW) is to create strong and livable community guided by informed citizens.

PAW MISSION

The mission PAW is to help shape a vibrant Washington through effective and informed community planning.

PAW is a grassroots organization serving the educational needs of planning commissioners, elected and appointed officials, tribes, special purpose districts, private sector firms, state agencies, and interested community members.

PAW GOALS

- Provide education and outreach on the principles and practices of planning
- Provide a mechanism for bringing together individuals and organizations interested in planning
- Stimulate interest planning and the understanding of its objectives
- Foster the improvement of planning processes and implementation
- Promote cooperation among governmental, public, and private organizations

WHAT PAW DOES

PAW presents educational events multiple times a year all around Washington State.

- The PAW annual conference dives deep on one "hot" planning topic and devotes time for fellowship.
- Legal "Boot Camp" trainings are held throughout the state with an in-depth focus on timely planning topics.
- PAW is the founding partner in presenting the Short Course on Local Planning with the Department of Commerce and other partners.
- Partners with the Washington Chapter of the APA in presenting the Regional Planners forums with the Department of Commerce.
- Hosts "Hoppy Hour" social events
